

Testimonial

Albert Aktuganov

Former Chief Mechanical Engineer of Angarsk Petrochemical Company Refinery

Angarsk Refinery was the second refinery (after the Omsk Refinery) to implement the COMPACS system. The implementation began in 1995. Firstly, it allowed them to sensitize technological and maintenance personnel to high-quality maintenance and repair of machinery, and, secondly, to ensure the safe operation and detect causes of failures. After repair, the machines were not allowed to be put into operation if their status was «red» or «yellow».

